

Getting Started

Table of contents

Place new table of contents here

Introduction

Welcome to your D2L course. This document has been designed to help you learn about the different online areas of this course and where to find various course components. To begin we will take a tour through the course navigation which includes the following elements:

1. Course Home
2. Grades
3. Content
4. Activities
 - a. Assignments
 - b. Quizzes
 - c. Discussions
 - d. Rubrics
 - e. Surveys
5. Communication
 - a. Groups
 - b. Classlist
 - c. Announcements
 - d. Email
6. Help

- a. Currently D2L help (No DC IT help link currently available)

Course Home

This template package comes with several purpose-built topic types, such as Course Introduction, Module Introduction, Meet Your Facilitator, Basic page, Elements page, Image Editing, Video Lecture, and Conclusion pages.

- The Course Introduction page features a full-screen image for visual impact, and a clean area for course description.
- The Module Introduction page features a prominent banner image across the top and a

If you have an idea for a new template page please let the CAFÉ know about it. Email us at DCConnect@DurhamCollege.ca

Grades

All existing HTML files in the template folder are available as templates when you create new HTML documents.

1. In a module, click

Note: Apply the template to an existing page will overwrite the content and you will lose

Content

All existing HTML files in the template folder are available as templates when you create new HTML documents.

Activities

All existing HTML files in the template folder are available as templates when you create new HTML documents.

Assignments

All existing HTML files in the template folder are available as templates when you create new HTML documents.

Quizzes

All existing HTML files in the template folder are available as templates when you create new HTML documents.

Discussions

All existing HTML files in the template folder are available as templates when you create new HTML documents.

Rubrics

All existing HTML files in the template folder are available as templates when you create new HTML documents.

Surveys

All existing HTML files in the template folder are available as templates when you create new HTML documents.

Communication

All existing HTML files in the template folder are available as templates when you create new HTML documents.

Groups

All existing HTML files in the template folder are available as templates when you create new HTML documents.

Classlist

All existing HTML files in the template folder are available as templates when you create new HTML documents.

Announcements

All existing HTML files in the template folder are available as templates when you create new HTML documents.

Email

All existing HTML files in the template folder are available as templates when you create new HTML documents.

Help

All existing HTML files in the template folder are available as templates when you create new HTML documents.

