

Writing

Modal Verbs of Prohibition

In the chart below, some characters from our story want to stop other people from doing certain actions.

- Use the words in parentheses () to write a complete prohibition.
- Include a subject, a modal verb, the word NOT, and an action. Add other words to make a full sentence. The first one has been done as an example.

1. Officer Mill's order to Roshan	(must, write)
You must not write your nickname on this form.
2. Gilles' directive to Claire	(should, answer)
3. Claire's rule for campers	(ought to, to burn)
4. Campers' expectations of pets	(can, bark or bite)

See the answer key in the text for possible answers.